Skills forged at NPS have enabled me to provide warfighters with the most realistic training environment today in preparation for combat tomorrow. From task analysis to simulation suitability, the MOVES curriculum marbles the “whole exercise concept” throughout its entire program. The Marine Corps expects its graduate students to emerge from degree programs as duty experts on the cutting-edge of technology, and this degree delivers!